Who lost their lives in the Motor Smash at Handcross,
July 12th, 1906.

They'll never see their homes any more,
They'll never return again,
Friends they are left to weep and mourn,
The ones they loved are now dead and gone,
The fathers they loved so dear,
Their loss they all will deplore,
Gone from those they love, to rest up above,
They'll not see their homes any more.
